United Way of Eddy County receives $20,000 from Chevron for Hardship Fund

FEBRUARY 14, 2024

On Valentine's Day, United Way and its generous supporters are 'falling in love with our community.' We encourage everyone to come share in the love.

CARLSBAD, NM -- For us, it wasn't just love at first sight. Every passing day, the United Way of Eddy County is falling more in love with our community. We're especially feeling that love this Valentine's Day.

The United Way is elated to announce a $20,000 donation from Chevron to our organization's Hardship Fund, which works to provide struggling local families with immediate needs.

Chevron helped the United Way establish the Hardship Fund during the COVID-19 pandemic to provide emergency food, housing and other supports to vulnerable residents. With support from generous donors, the Hardship Fund continues to spread the love in the community, providing neighbors with swift access to resources and aid, such as help with utility bills, food pantries and distributions, veteran services, mental health support, clothing, prescription medications and housing support.

Generous donations from our community partners to the Hardship Fund are having a direct and meaningful impact on our neighbors. Seeing that impact firsthand will warm any heart.

Katelyn Maxwell, Chevron Delaware Basin West New Mexico operations superintendent, is grateful for the work that the United Way and other community members do that make Eddy County a great place to live and work. "It is a privilege to support our neighbors in need, especially those who are struggling with housing and food security," Maxwell said. "We love collaborating with the United Way on this Hardship Fund because we have seen the difference it has made in the lives of Eddy County residents."

United Way encourages everyone to join us this Valentine's Day in falling in love with our community. Find out how you can support the United Way of Eddy County's Hardship Fund by contacting Executive Director Kyle Marksteiner.
